Sussex Rural Electric Cooperative, Inc.

A Touchstone Energy® Cooperative

Pre-School

Electrical safety is very important regardless of age. Sussex Rural Electric's safety program for Pre-K students centers around our "Hazard Hamlet" Module. "Hazard Hamlet" is a fully integrated display which incorporates sight and sound into training young people to the dangers of electricity in everyday situations. The demonstration is an eye opening experience complete with sparks, sounds, and small power arcs. "Hazard Hamlet" is an educational device designed to keep the audience focused during the important safety message.

Because of its dynamic and interactive design, the "Hazard Hamlet" module brings the message home in a very dramatic way that keeps the attention of pre-school age children for optimal results in learning and retention. If the schedule permits, a lineman with a bucket-truck may also be available for presentations.

Elementary

For elementary school age children, our electrical safety program is designed around the classroom teachings. A PowerPoint presentation and workbooks accompany a lineman with gear to the classroom for an educational program on what electric power is, where it comes from, and the dangers that surround it. We have found that students of all ages enjoy asking questions and have a lot of curiosity about electricity. The question and answer time is always beneficial for all students.

Or, bring your class for a tour of our facility and let them see the trucks and business of an electric cooperative.

High School & Beyond

Youth Tour

Youth Tour offers juniors going into their senior year of high school the opportunity to go to Washington, D.C. for a week and learn about electric cooperatives, American history, and U.S. government.
